About his works:-

Sanjay said, "I don't believe in compulsion, as it restricts human thinking, rather I believe in imagination that drives me to create. I believe everything has shades of emotion and this belief leads me to look beyond the barriers of language."

Sanjay in his typical style executes the landscapes using abstract forms. He uses thick layers of colors with vigorous strokes. His artworks are not only centered to the paintings on canvas but he also experimented with the paintings on utensil made of clay (Kaladi).
